Dear Parents and Carers,

We welcomed the news on Friday from the Prime Minister and the Education Secretary that they aim to get all children back in school in September. We are aware of how challenging this period has been and there is nothing we want more than to see all the children back here at Walnut Tree Walk. We await further news about what this return will look like, and have to be mindful that the government have made a number of U-turns recently with regards to decisions about education. Our policy is, and will continue to be, to have as many children back in school as the current policy, our staffing numbers, and the physical space of the building allows. I will keep you updated with any developments in terms of plans for September, but we are currently making provisional plans for everyone to be back after the summer holidays.

In the next few weeks, you will be emailed a copy of your child's school report for this year. These were written around Easter time and are based on the learning the children had done in school up to that point in time. I will also write to you about who your child's teacher will be for the next academic year.

I hope you are all keeping well. Thank you for sending in your photos for the assemblies, and for sharing the amazing learning that is taking place at home. If you have any photos of creative learning for this week's assembly, please send it to us by the end of the day today.

Best Wishes,

Andrew
